Pioneers Volleyball Camp

The Pioneers fundamentals volleyball camp is designed for athletes in grades 5-12. All the basic volleyball skills will be taught during the four-day session.

Athletes will learn both offensive and defensive strategies as well as how to set, hit, bump, spike, dig and serve from collegiate coaches and athletes. The camp is open to athletes of all skill levels.

Camp Directors

Pioneers volleyball coach Jim Giacomazzi has a proven track record in collegiate volleyball. Giacomazzi coached West Texas A&M (formerly West Texas State University) to a national title in 1991. Prior to coaching at WTA&M, he served as assistant coach at Pacific University and Oral Roberts University. He was also the head volleyball coach at the University of Nevada, Reno from 1989-90. While at Reno, Giacomazzi founded the Northern Nevada Volleyball Club, the first for the Northern Nevada area.

Under his direction, the Wayland volleyball team has experienced tremendous success during the past two seasons. The 2007 pioneers advanced to the NAIA Region VI Championship tournament with a 23-17 record, the program's first 20-win season in more than a decade, and its first trip to the regional tourney in four years. In 2008, the WBU women won a school-record eight straight to open the season, and finished with a 26-8 record. The 26 wins were the second most in school history. The team also won Wayland's first-ever Sooner Athletic Conference tournament championship. Eleven Pioneers have earned post-season honors the past two years, and of that number nine will return to wear the Pioneer uniform in 2009.

After moving to the panhandle to take over at WT, Giacomazzi founded the Crown of Texas volleyball club. Giacomazzi left coaching in the mid 1990s, but remained actively involved with the sport, serving as a volleyball official before taking over at Wayland in 2007.
